Wine Specialists at Fratellos Waterfront Restaurants

– Supple Group Management Achieve Wine Certification –

Oshkosh, Wisconsin – Fratellos Waterfront Restaurant is proud to announce Scott Roekle, Director of Operations-Supple Group, and Brendan Moore, General Manager-Fratellos Milwaukee, have passed the Certified Specialist of Wine (CSW) exam through the Society of Wine Educators.

The Society of Wine Educators validates wine knowledge, tasting acumen and teaching ability within its three-tier hierarchy of certification: Certified Specialist of Wine (CSW), Certified Wine Educator (CWE) and Master Wine Educator (MWE). The test recognizes a high standard of academic wine knowledge and the mastery of key elements within the world of wine and vine as determined by a team of wine industry educators. Currently, there are around fifteen CSW's in Wisconsin. Only sixty-five percent of candidates pass the CSW at first sitting and twenty-five percent pass the CWE the first attempt. Successful candidates are entitled to add the appropriate post-nominal to their professional signature.

“With our growth now moving into our 6th Fratellos Waterfront Restaurant joined by our award winning Appleton Melting Pot, our group is passionate about the continued education of our staff in order to provide our guests the best experience possible,” stated Scott Roekle.

Fratellos Waterfront Restaurants and The Melting Pot of Appleton have won several wine awards including the most recent, Wine Spectator Award of Excellence in 2008. This award gives recognition to a broad range of restaurants, from small bistros to more upscale restaurants. The restaurants which made the list show attention to quality producers, a thematic match with the menu, and clear, concise presentation.
